

FRAMING

We will often be getting very up close with our main characters.

Marisol in her car as she picks up different fares throughout the day.

Maria as she goes through her day at school.

Complementing this we will see mother and daughter together in telephoto long shots, isolating the two against the city backdrop.